Farmers Preparing to Move Family and Stock

Massillon Man Drowns in Basement of Home

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27. (AP)—The swollen Ohio and Tuscarawas rivers, laden with ice blocks, threatened parts of Eastern Ohio with floods tonight and farmers in several low-land districts were preparing to move their families and stock.

The vicinity of East Liverpool was seriously threatened by flood stage and the Tuscarawas was prevented from inundating part of Dover only by levees strained to the point where there was some apprehension that they might give way.

Elsewhere over the State where rivers and streams climbed out of their banks following yesterday's heavy rains and sudden thaw, conditions were approaching normal.

Compacts of 100 homes at East Liverpool moved their belongings or prepared to do so. Residents in the vicinity of Wellsville, O. Smith's Ferry, Pa., and Congo, W. Va., also were warned of flood danger.

The second death attributed to the flood occurred today when W. H. Lee, Massillon restaurant owner, fell into water in the basement of his home and was drowned.

RIVERS RECEDED IN PITTSBURGH AREA

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 27. (AP)—The Three Rivers have been receding slowly tonight following a day of fair weather after a "surprise" flood stage had threatened a serious high-water situation for a time. The flood level is twenty-five feet and the high mark today was recorded as 55.3. River front streets are inundated and basements flooded earlier in the day. The Allegheny River was running full of ice from corpses which broke under pressure of high water in its upper reaches. The Monongahela also was running a small amount of ice in the river as a standstill in both these rivers, as well as the Ohio, which they form.

No serious damage was reported. Pioneer rivermen revived the rise in the river was the most rapid in their experience. It was attributed to the sudden breaking of the gorge, which had held back water produced by rains and the melting of abundant snow.

MICHIGAN FLOOD STATIONARY

MONROE (Mich.) Feb. 27. (AP)—Flood waters that poured out of the River Raisin into the basements and lower floors of homes and manufacturing plants along its banks, seemingly are stationary tonight. Approximately 100 families have been forced from their homes, while many others are occupying only upper floors. Rowboats delivered many marooned families to safety and carried provisions and newspapers to others who declined to leave their homes.

An area fifteen blocks long and two to three blocks wide on either side of the river is under water from two to three feet deep.

clipped him or, at least, expunge his derogatory statements about the Senate from the permanent record, but felt the risk was warranted in an effort to call attention to the Senate's indifference toward republicanism and bring the legislation into a position where it might possibly be passed before the expiration of the Seventieth Congress next Monday.

TIME TO PROTEST

"If this Congress passes into history on March 4 with the reappointment bill still not enacted," McLeod declared, "it will be another monument to the colossal impotence of this House and the nation have been subjected. It will be another blow on the law-making history of Congress—a blot for which the House is in no way responsible."

"The time has come when the House should go on record as protesting against these tyrannies," he said.

The House reappointment bill passed by the House relocating seats in the lower branch on the basis of the forthcoming 1930 census, has been blocked in the Senate behind other legislation, minor in comparison to the filibustering tactics of Senators, mostly southern Democrats, from States which would lose representation.

The measure was slated for three hours of consideration Monday night, but after two hours and twenty minutes of parliamentary wrangling over motions to adjourn and recess, the Senate dropped the futile proceedings and quit. It was then that the reappointment bill was dead for this Congress and probably, at long last, for the future.

Announcement of this was made in the House of Commons today by Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer, replying in behalf of the Premier to a question by a Laborite.

LINDBERGH HURT IN PLANE CRASH

minister the anesthetic at the American Embassy residence, but the colonel was taken later in the afternoon to Lady Cowdry Samaritan, a British institution. At 5:45 p.m. he was brought back to the Embassy residence and appeared to be entirely well. Thirty-five minutes later he entered a motor car with Miss Morrow and started for the flying field.

It was the first accident of its kind that the colonel has ever had. While in the mail service he was forced to make two parachute descents, but his landings invariably have been finished to the last degree. The loss of a wheel, however, means an inevitable mishap, the seriousness of which can be gauged only by the skill of the aviator.

HE KNEW OF LOSS

That he was conscious of the fact that he was missing a wheel when he came down was apparent as he waved to officers on the landing field to call attention to his plight. Lindbergh and Miss Morrow had kept entirely secret their plans to make a flight today. This morning before proceeding to the field he refused all information concerning his plans. Two hours later he and Anne appeared at the flying field and hopped off, refusing to say where they were going. The next known of them was when they reappeared over the field with the wheel missing.

The plane's steel propeller blade was badly bent and twisted. Other damage included the smashing of the end of one wing and some injury to a part of the rudder and the part of the fabric skinning the inside of the cabin was torn and the framework supporting the motor was broken.

The windows were not fractured. Col. Lindbergh refused to indicate where he had lost the wheel except to say it was in a field near Mexico City.

The accident caused considerable excitement in Mexico City, where every development of Col. Lindbergh's romance is being followed by the public.

MECHANIC AT FAULT

It was learned tonight that the loss of the right wheel of his landing gear was the result of an oversight of mechanics at the flying field. When the gear was being greased this morning workmen forgot to replace the cotterpin which holds the wheel in place. The wheel remained attached while the plane was in the air and until Col. Lindbergh landed at the "piedra azul" not yet disclosed.

When the plane took off for the homebound flight the wheel dropped off. Col. Lindbergh maneuvered the plane over the field before landing to exhaust most of his gasoline. He said that he did this to avoid an explosion when the plane cracked up on landing, a thing which he fully expected would occur. The City of Wichita is not equipped with a gasoline-dumping device.

He warned his fiancée, Miss Anne Morrow, of the danger, and piled cushions about her in such manner that she would not be hurt by a minor crash. RIVER ATTITUDE MORE HOPEFUL

Return of Donovan Also to be Favorable Factor

Conferees Now Think They May "Get Somewhere"

Cragin Clears Up Several Points for Arizonans

SANTA FE (N. M.) Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—What appeared tonight to be a rift in the clouds of doubtful success that have been overhanging the Colorado River tri-State compact conference for nearly two weeks was evidenced by the changed attitudes of the commissions from California, Arizona and Nevada concerning progress they believe is being made.

It was the generally expressed belief among the conferees tonight that they have begun to "get somewhere" in the negotiations to bring the river into a clearer understanding of the desirability of a seven-State pact under the Swing-Johnson bill.

CRAIN GETS CREDIT

Almost without exception, they give credit for the changed attitude of the Arizona commission to the presence here of Charles Cragin, chief engineer of the Salt River project, who entered the conference today as consulting engineer for the Arizonans.

It is pointed out that Mr. Cragin visited here to clarify several points for Arizonans regarding the power phase of the question which had been stumbling blocks in the previous negotiations. If the power differences between Arizona, California and Nevada can be settled satisfactorily, it is felt generally that the water problem eventually can be solved.

DONOVAN DUE BACK

Coupled with Mr. Cragin's presence here is the fact that Col. William J. Donovan, assistant Attorney-General of the United States and chairman of the conference, will return from Washington probably tomorrow evening and resume his place in the meeting Friday morning.

Although Col. Donovan's visit to the national capital primarily was for the purpose of conferring with President Hoover concerning Cabinet appointments, it is known that he intended also to go into detail concerning the Santa Fe compact.

The commissions in session here confidently expect that a plan for negotiation in the future sessions of the conference as outlined by Mr. Hoover and Col. Donovan, will be offered by the Federal official soon after his return.

UTAH WATER STORAGE COMMISSION CHANGES VOTE

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—Another move favorable to final enactment of the six-State Colorado River pact was recorded here today when the Utah Water Storage Commission, reversing its former action, voted seven to two to recommend that the State Legislature put the State back into the pact.

Members of the Senate special Boulder dam committee were non-committal when the House measure, passed yesterday, committing Utah to the six-State pact reached the upper house. No action was taken by the Senate other than to receive the bill.

Largely instrumental in obtaining the vote of recommendation by the Water Storage Commission was Chairman William R. Wallace, who was attending the Santa Fe conference when the commission voted a resolution urging that the State agree to only the seven-State pact which now is in effect.

FILM INDUSTRY FACING HOLD-UP

Producers Term French Plan Plain Extortion

Department of Commerce to Register Protest

Attempt to Bolster Gallic Trade Unconcealed

PARIS, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—It is considered quite likely that the American Department of Commerce, through the informal channel, will soon make formal representations to the French government on behalf of American film companies operating in France.

These concerns now are faced with an alternative of financing French film interests to the extent of $1,000,000 or even more or of submitting to a radical curtailment of their business by means of the cinema control legislation passed in France last year with the purpose of reviving the depressed industry.

As the new crisis is expected to reach its climax within the next few days the American government's intervention, it is stated, will have to take place almost immediately, if any good is to be accomplished.

TIME BY FORELOCK

The compromise of a year ago by which Will Hays, American film czar, was able to arrange a temporary accord at a moment when the Americans were ready to withdraw entirely from the French market expires in September this year, and in order that the Americans may have sufficient time in which to make plans for the 1935-1936 season some new understanding must be reached within the next two weeks.

Trade shows and other important considerations must be taken care of between now and September, if the coming season is to be properly anticipated.

As has been disclosed previously, numerous proposals have been maturing the last two months, all of which were equally unsatisfactory to American industry. Behind them hovered the desire, which the French industry does not try to conceal, to realize a stable sum of money for the exploitation of French films. This sum has been variously estimated at $500,000 to $1,000,000.

WHILE GETTING GOOD

One French film leader naïvely explained to an American film representative that with the American industry spending many millions of dollars in converting the cinema from a silent to a sound basis, it surely will not miss $1,000,000 spent in France for the privilege of placing business on a normal basis.

The problem has run along in this fashion with neither side willing to agree until today, when the desperate committee of the Chamber Syndicale of the French film industry held a special session to hear the report of President Delac concerning several new proposals which the distributors' and exhibitors' sections of the chamber have recommended to replace the present regulations governing the importation of foreign films.

FORMER AGREEMENT

It will be recalled that Mr. Hays's compromise provided for a seven-to-one contingent. Sixty per cent of the American importations were limited free and for the remainder the Americans were required to distribute a certain number of French films in order to obtain the necessary licenses or else to purchase licenses from the French producers, who received seven licenses from the cinema control commission for each film made here and distributed in France.

At today's session President Delac said the present regulations "I failed utterly to protect the French industry and that they had not as yet been able to obtain the necessary licenses for the coming year and finally concluded bitterly because the exportation of French films had fallen off during the past year."

FORCE AMERICANS' HAND

The committee adopted a new proposition, the details of which will be considered by the cinema control commission tomorrow. The latter's approval would be final and only government intervention, due to an American protest, could alter the situation. It is not improbable, therefore, that the commission will approve today's scheme, the industry taking the view that the Americans will then come forward with the much-desired cash proposals.

In this they are said to be heading for a complete disappointment, for spokesmen of the American industry here have made it quite clear that rather than submit to a form of financial extortion they prefer to withdraw from the market.

The proposal as indorsed at today's meeting would curtail the American business by another 25 per cent, according to film men. It is much less severe than the alternative proposition made by the producers, limiting the number of foreign films to 250 yearly and requiring five licenses instead of one for each foreign film released.

LATEST PROPOSITION

The latest solution and the one which is expected to be approved would provide a four-to-one contingent instead of the present seven-to-one. Five hundred films would be admitted each year and each American company would receive five free licenses to lease five foreign pictures.

For example, take the case of a company distributing fifty pictures. Five would come in free, but for forty-five, eleven French pictures would have to be distributed or an equal number of licenses purchased from French producers. It is estimated that the Americans would be required to distribute between sixty and seventy French films yearly or nearly three-fourths of the entire French productions. Under Mr. Hays's compromise the Americans distributed about a dozen French productions last year.

CRUISER FIGHT WON IN SENATE

Filibuster Threat Blocked by Closure Move

Bill Now Goes to House for Final Approval

Curtis Will Act to Speed Vital Appropriations

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The conference report adjusting differences between the Senate and House on the Navy Department appropriation bill was adopted late today by the Senate and sent to the House after a threat of filibuster had given leaders another scare.

House approval of the report will send the bill, carrying $12,500,000 for starting the cruiser program, to the White House. Senator Malone, Republican, Wisconsin, their consideration in the Senate early in the day, but when it came up later the opposition collapsed.

CLOSURE THREAT
Faced with an apparent filibuster, leaders had armed themselves with a petition to invoke the seldom-used closure rule shutting off debate. But with a slight session appearing as a possibility, the opposition yielded and a vote was permitted.

The bill provides $200,000 for starting work at once on the first five of the fifteen cruisers. Another $200,000 would be available after July 1, for beginning the second complement of five cruisers and the airplane carrier.

NEW FIGHT LOOMS
With the navy supply measure finally out of the way, leaders breathed a sigh of relief. It was the most controversial of the three appropriation measures awaiting disposition. However, there is the prospect of a protracted dispute over the Interior Department bill.

The measure has been passed by both the Senate and House, but there is conflict over the provision to authorize the Secretary of the Interior to condemn any property in national parks. Senators Walsh and Wheeler, Democrats, Montana, are opposed to this stipulation.

CURTIS CRACKS WHIP
Approaching the last hours of the session, it was the intention of Senator Curtis of Kansas, the Republican leader, to give the vital appropriation bills full right of way to assure their disposition and avoid their consideration in the extra session.

Virtually all general legislation, except the bill of Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, to extend the administrative powers of the Radio Commission for another year, has been abandoned in the drive for adoption of the necessary supply measures.

During debate on the naval bill Senators Jones, Republican, and Dill, Democrat, both of Washington, protested against failure of the House conference to accept an amendment of the Senate to appropriate funds to continue an extension of Dry Dock No. 3 in Puget Sound.

CHURCH LINKED TO INDIAN QUIZ

Letter Tells of Money Plans Under Fall Regime

Message Asserted to Have Been by Baptist Officer

Donation of $1,000,000 by Barnett Defended

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—A letter purporting to show that a suggestion was made by an official of the American Baptist Home Mission Society to obtain as much money as possible from Indians in Oklahoma while Albert B. Fall was Secretary of the Interior was read today into the record of the Senate Indian investigation.

The letter, which was read by Senator Wheeler, Democrat, of Montana, was asserted to have been written by Charles White, secretary of the society, to E. D. Weeks, president of the Society of the Oklahoma. It was dated February 14, 1923.

LETTER QUOTED

"I talked with my friend in Washington," the letter said, "about the whole matter of future gifts, and I am very sure that now is the psychological time to strike. My general advice is to concentrate carefully, persistently and systematically on trying to bring gifts of the Indians to a very much larger amount."

"No one knows what the future may bring by a change of officials and something will depend, I presume, on who is Mr. Fall's successor. During the best year or two and indeed between now and March 4 may prove to be a very precious period of time. I would, therefore, advise that you see personally as large a number as possible of the Indians of means."

Senator Wheeler read the letter after he had inquired of Charles H. Burke, commissioner of Indian affairs, who appeared as witness, whether "other donations had been made by Indians." In addition to the one of more than $1,000,000 by Jackson Barnett, aged Creek Indian, the Baptist society, and to his wife, which has been the subject of extended investigation.

FILES SHOW DONATIONS

Burke replied that other donations had been made and that the files of his office would show the details. He said he had "no recollection" of the letter to Weeks and that he "had never heard of it."

Wheeler then read another letter to Weeks asserted to have been written by Weeks to Samuel Bryant, treasurer of the Baptist society, saying the southern Baptists "would give a great deal to get rid of my influence with the Indians and with the department officials."

"I shall expect the society," the letter said, "to remain firm in their control and support of Boone College because we cannot afford to betray the trust of the Indians."

BARNETT NOT IMBECILE

"I have a man of part Indian blood who knows the country and the Indians as but few men know them who can be of great service to us in getting money and who can keep in close personal touch with the Indians, keeping us informed as to what is going on. I cannot and will not stoop to the underhanded things these southern Baptists are doing."

The letter added that the southern Baptists were "combining the Indian country, misrepresenting the facts."

Burke said he would show that Barnett was not an imbecile as has been charged, and that he was competent to make a lease of his oil lands in Oklahoma and to make a donation of his money. New York courts have held the Indian incompetent.

CONTINUATION ORDERED

A continuation of the inquiry was ordered later by the Senate and at the same time charges were made against an employee of the committee.

After a resolution for the further investigation had been adopted by the Senate, Senator Hayden, Democrat, Arizona, declared that an employee of the Indian committee had been collecting travel pay from the government without leaving his home. He said the committee had been conducting its investigation as a "kangaroo court."

Senator Wheeler, Democrat of Montana, a member of the committee, replied that Hayden's charges were aimed at discrediting the inquiry. He asked Hayden why he had not made his complaint about the employee before the committee itself.

RESERVE BOARD SEEKS NO LAW

Senate Told Credit Situation Well in Hand

Speculative Loan Slashing Efforts Succeed

Banks Co-operate in Plan to Make Reduction

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—The Federal Reserve board today informed the Senate it is satisfied with the effort to bring about a reduction in the volume of speculative loans by member banks and unless a change developed there is no immediate need for a legislative remedy.

The board had asked the Senate whether legislation is needed to meet the conditions complained of by the board in its statement of the 6th inst. concerning the speculative loans.

The board's report to the Senate today declared, "if it should develop that the board through exercise of the powers," granted under the provisions of the Federal Reserve Act, or the incorporation with the Federal Reserve and member banks, "should be unable to bring about a solution of the problem, which has awakened the concern of the Senate, the Federal Reserve board and the general body of public opinion it will be glad to give consideration to the possibility of remedy by legislation."

"At the time of the issue of its statement it was the belief of the board it could count upon the co-operation not only of Federal Reserve banks, but of leading member banks everywhere in the country in making a successful effort to bring about an orderly readjustment of the credit situation; and the board has been confirmed in this belief by what has taken place since. This is also the view of the Federal Advisory Council."

Hope Given Up for John Acher

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—John Acher's fraternity brothers have been informed there is nothing they can do to save his life.

The entire Northwestern University chapter of Phi Delta Theta yesterday offered to submit to blood transfusions in an effort to save the athlete.

The offer was declined by Acher's father. His telegram, from Fort Dodge, Iowa, said a transfusion had been arranged but that there seemed to be little chance of recovery.

Acher, a member of the Northwestern football squad, was shot last fall when hoodlums in an automobile became angered after Acher's car had grazed a fender of their machine. The bullet entered his spine.

ALIEN-GANGSTER MEASURE FAILS

Bill to Oust Gunmen Likely Lost For This Term

Senate Conferees Reject House Legislation

Johnson of California One of Three Deciding

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—Proposed legislation for the deportation of alien gunmen terrorizing the large cities failed today probably beyond possibility of revival in this Congress.

The bill as passed by the House provided for the deportation of aliens sentenced to imprisonment for six months or more for carrying concealed weapons or bombs or convicted of violation of the prohibition or narcotic drug law or the Mann White Slave Act.

In a conference committee the Senate conferees refused to accept the House deportation provisions. The Senate conferees were Senators Hiram Johnson, Republican, California; David A. Reed, Republican, Pennsylvania, and Royal S. Copeland, Democrat, New York.

The Senate conferees took the position that the House bill created unjustifiable inequalities in deportation. It was contended that while an alien sentenced to six months' imprisonment for carrying a gun could be deported at any time under this bill, an alien who commits murder one day after he had been in this country five years could not be deported under existing laws.

The assertion was made that half the people of Chicago are carrying concealed weapons as a result of the reign of lawlessness in that city and that the deportation of aliens in addition to imprisonment for carrying weapons for self-defense would be an unwarranted discrimination between citizens and foreigners.

Such famous Beauty Specialists as DELORD et BION, Paris recommend this as most important of all home beauty treatments

"Palm and olive oils, as expertly combined in Palmolive Soap, have a most healing effect and yet provide the deep cleansing which is the very foundation of beauty."

A. Delord et Bion

65, AVENUE VICTOR HUGO
PARIS

OF THE many celebrated beauty establishments in Paris, one of the largest and most typically Parisian is that of Delord et Bion, capitalized at over 500,000 francs. This unusual growth to prominence has come within comparatively few years and is due to a unique combination of the scientific and the aesthetic, as represented in the two members of this now internationally recognized firm.

The scientific atmosphere which surrounds the Paris beauty salon of Delord et Bion is authentic. Monsieur Armand Delord is skilled in beauty culture and has many years of experience. Monsieur Roger Bion brings to this partnership modern ideas of technique which add the final assurance of perfection to a Delord et Bion treatment.

They themselves feel that much of their success is due to the emphasis they place on home care of the skin.

In this Paris Salon, on the Avenue Victor Hugo, one learns of a rule of skin care based on soap combining oils of palm and olives... a rule which has become international in use and is recommended by experts all over the world.

If you were to consult Lina Cavalieri or Madame Valentin Le Brun of Paris, they, too, would advise it. Elsie Bock, of Berlin; Madame Berna Jacobson, of London; Pessl, of Vienna, advocate this same treatment of their aristocratic patrons.

Why palm and olive oils

"We advise all our clients to use the following method," say Delord et Bion.

"First they must use Palmolive Soap because this soap definitely helps the beauty expert in his work of complexion improvement."

"Palm and olive oils, as expertly combined in Palmolive Soap, have a most healing effect and yet provide the deep cleansing which is the very foundation of beauty."

"In addition to Palmolive we prescribe the use of our cream No. 65. Scientifically prepared, it whitens and softens the skin, agrees with all complexions and retains the powder," say Delord et Bion.

"We also recommend our powder No. 65, which has a very pleasant perfume and is specially made to be used with our cream No. 65."

How best to use Palmolive

With both hands massage a lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water well into the skin two minutes, allowing it to penetrate the pores. Then rinse, first with warm water, gradually with colder. A final rinse with ice water is a refreshing astringent.

For a dry skin, a touch of cold cream before adding powder and rouge; for oily skin, an astringent lotion.

A simple treatment, yet it undoubtedly explains why Palmolive is one of the two largest selling soaps in France—known the world over as home of exquisite cosmetics. Here in America, and in forty-eight other countries, it is more generally used than any other soap.

When smart cosmopolitan ask the Parisian atmosphere possible for treatment, they invariably refer to Delord et Bion. These two scientific French specialists provide the scientific and the aesthetic which lights a discriminating recommendation.

A priceless formula which the precious oils of palm and olive, famous since the days of Cleopatra for preserving health and beauty.

CURE FOR A CRASH OFF

Legislation Survey Traffic Deaths

Four Steps Urged Down Fatalities

Worsening of Among Remedies

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Recommending four steps to curb the increasing number of deaths and injuries from motor vehicle accidents, the joint legislative committee appointed in 1929 to study conditions subject to report today.

Considering the number of deaths and injuries caused by motor vehicles, the committee reported the conditions as compared with the motor vehicle deaths in California, the joint legislative committee stated, "is found to be one of the worst in the country."

"The one bright spot in the past years, the committee stated, 'is found to be the fact that the increase in motor vehicle deaths has not kept pace with the increase in the number of motor vehicles.'"

Four steps recommended by the committee as means of preventing a large part of the loss in property are:

(1) Compulsion of an eye exam of motorists before license renewal and annual inspection of motor vehicles.

(2) Continuing revision of vehicle law based on changes obtained through enforcement of the law.

(3) Vigorous enforcement of the law throughout the state and state police, violation of all accidents and prevention and uniformity of violators.

(4) Broadening of liability permitting or other means for negligent operators of motor vehicles, revocation of license of persons falling in court judgments and of allowing such persons to be allowed to drive.

Practically all of these points covered by bills introduced in the Legislature this year.

MIAMI BOWS TO SCARFACE

Chicago Gangster Gradually Meshes Liquor and Gambling Rackets at Florida Resort

MIAMI BEACH (Fla.) Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—"Scarface Al" Capone may be the next boss of Greater Miami.

The man who is reputed to have solidified the beer-running activities in Chicago and hooked up a nation-wide chain with ramifications from New York to Los Angeles, is daily becoming a larger factor in the life of this resort.

Capone is enmeshed of Miami, his home is one of the most beautiful on Palm Island and, surrounded by a gang of strong-arm men, is far more powerful than any spot he could find in Chicago.

"Scarface is a smart man and a business man. This part of the country is wide open. All sorts of liquor is immediately available, from beer to champagne. Gambling resorts flourish in every street.
There is not a hotel lobby or cigar store that hasn't slot machines to draw the nickels, dimes and quarters of the sportively inclined but less affluent visitors.

Said a Floridian today, who knows the inside workings of things in these parts:

"Capone controls most of the slot machines in Florida and they are worth a fortune in themselves. I have been told that he backs a lot of other games. Certainly it is common gossip about Miami that the gunman from Chicago has his finger in a dozen games hereabouts.

"I don't know if he has anything to do with liquor down here. There is no question about the ease with which liquor comes into the town.
"He is putting some of his profits into solid concerns. They tell me one of the largest hotels in Miami Beach is owned by Scarface, and he will invest in other ventures.
Can't you see what trend this is taking? If Capone gets to control enough of the interests in this resort, isn't it natural to assume that he will some day be able to swing the whip?"

HAZARD IN FILM INDUSTRY LIGHT

State Director Points to Low
Casualty Rate

SACRAMENTO, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—The business of making motion pictures is one of the least hazardous of labor, it was reported today by Will J. French, State Director of Industrial Relations.

During the past four and one-half years, only twenty-four fatalities have occurred in the motion picture industry. Fifty others sustained permanent injuries and 3443 were more or less slightly hurt in providing amusement for picture fans.

"The spectacular deaths and injuries," remarks French, in a report to the Governor, "would undoubtedly be reduced if the picture stars had to take the chances themselves."

Child's Grandmother May be Named in Defense

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27. (AP)—
Mrs. Edna Sharp, confessed kidnaper of 4-year-old Doris Smith
Murphy, was arraigned in Police Court today on a charge of kidnap-ing and child stealing, and her preliminary hearing set for 2 p.m.

Byron C. Parker, attorney for Mrs. Sharp, hinted to the court that his client's defense will largely be based on efforts to prove Mrs.
Nelle Grebitus, the grandmother, guilty of the kidnaping, as Mrs.
Sharp charged in a "confession" made yesterday and repudiated a short time later.

Stalin Group Declared to Be Planting Evidence

Exiled Russian Tells Views
in German Journal

BERLIN, Feb. 27. (AP)—Leon Trotsky in an article published today in Volkswille, organ of the opposition Communists in Germany, charges the Stalin group in Soviet Russia with a policy of inciting Agent Provocateurs to plant evidence incriminating the opposition Communists in Russia.

"The mere announcement that the opposition is a counter-revolutionary party does not suffice," Trotsky wrote. "Nobody takes such a declaration seriously. The more oppositionists are excluded and sent into banishment, the more their numbers have grown within the party. Stalin admitted this in 1928. There remains but one thing for him: The attempt to draw a bloody line between the official party and the opposition. Extreme necessity compels him to bring the opposition into connection with attempts and with preparations for armed rebellion."

TWO-FOLD PLAN

"The strongest hindrance to such a plan is the leadership of the opposition. But the physical destruction of old revolutionaries known to the whole world would entail grave political difficulties. Hence Stalin's plan: First, to accuse the opposition of preparations for armed rebellion, as a prerequisite to new repression; second, to be in a great hurry to banish the head of the opposition."

from the country in order to have his head free for the hangman's noose on such oppositionists who are little known, especially abroad.

Trotsky then predicted various "frame-ups" in the near future to discredit the opposition and asserted that several weeks ago such an attempt, "concocted according to all the rules of Bonapartist provocation," was made but failed.

IN COMMUNICATION
Editor Urban of the Volkswille told the Associated Press he is in constant touch with the exile in Constantinople, though naturally through "grapevine" means.

"Whether or not his mail is being censored, we don't know. At any rate he is taking no chances," the editor said. "It is certain that he is in bad health and the Turkish climate does not agree with him."

Urban said that as far as he can determine the Prussian Cabinet is not opposed to permitting Trotsky to come to Germany, but that the Foreign Office is solidly opposed to it.

Arizona Legislature Seeks

Taking State Institutions Out

House Passes Fruit and Vegetable Measure

PHOENIX (AP) Feb. 27. (AP)—Action was launched in both houses of the Arizona Legislature today to abolish the board of directors of State Institutions, creating in lieu thereof the State Board of Control, to be composed of three members, at least one of which shall be a woman, all to be appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Senate, and barring the board and its employees from participating in politics under penalty of banishment from office.

The body governing the operation of State Institutions was known as the Board of Control until some eight years ago, when it was supplanted by the board of directors of State Institutions.

PAY $10 A DAY

Under the provisions of the bill the Board of Control members would receive $10 a day while engaged in work of the board and all expenses. Provision is made for the employment of a purchasing agent, the salary of such agent to be determined by the board. The bill appropriates $15,000 for carrying the act into effect.

The House today passed the fruit and vegetable standardization bill which sets up a code for the inspection and packing of farm and orchard produce. The vote was 49 to 1. The bill has the endorsement of farm organization and produce shippers. The House also passed a bill for adjudication of the public debt of the town of Tombstone, the vote being unanimous. Other bills passed by the House included one amending the law relating to the settlement of land by ex-soldiers; and one providing for a fund for the eradication of the disease known as scabies.

TEACHERS BILL PASSED

Reconsideration of a bill amending the irrigation laws so that project directors could sell portions of the lands under a district, was voted today after an adverse vote was taken yesterday. In Committee of the Whole House, the bill was recommended for passage, but it carries the emergency clause, must have two-thirds majority for passage, and its supporters must muster more votes if the bill is to win. Representative Wiener of Yuma is the sponsor of the bill, admittedly drawn to cover a situation local to the Yuma project, and the Maricopa delegation in the House, or at least a majority of the delegation, is opposing the bill.

The Senate passed a bill providing for the retirement of presidents of teachers' college and for their election as president emeritus, with pay; passed a bill increasing the appropriation for agricultural extension work, and passed one on the supplemental "feed" bill for House attaches.

LADYBUGS OFF TO FIGHT THRIPS
AS ONION CROP LOSES STRENGTH

COLORADO SPRINGS (Colo.) Feb. 27. (AP)—Ten quarts of hibernating ladybugs answering an 80¢ call from the onion fields of Texas are en route to Laredo, where they will wage a war against thrips, arch-enemy of the spring onion.

There was an unusually large crop of ladybugs on Mt. Manitou, near here, last fall, and those who know where to look for them—under the dust—had no difficulty in gathering them by the half-pint, the pint and the quart.

The Fremont experiment station, located on Mt. Manitou, and conducted by the United States Forest Service, selected the most active of the bugs for fighting duty in Texas.

The thrips have been making great inroads on the onion crop near Laredo. The ladybug is worth its weight in gold in the onion fields. The regular ladybug army, always in use in the onion fields, was badly beaten and forced to retreat this season in Texas. The thrips uncovered a surprise attack, with the result the onion crop faces the prospect of losing its strength.

DECEIT OF LOVE ENDS

Death Ends Letters to Mother for
Son Who Perished in France

PASADENA (Cal.) Feb. 27. (AP)—A ten-year task of benevolent deceit was ended today with the arrival from Brooklyn of the body of Mrs. Mina Preiskal for funeral services today.

Robert, one of Mrs. Preiskal's seven children, died in France in March, 1919, while a member of the American Expeditionary Forces. She never knew because since that time her children in the United States have been writing her letters, imitating as well as they could, Robert's handwriting and signing his name to them. The missives were mailed to France and returned to Brooklyn. They told that Robert was sick and yearned for his return from time to time. Mrs. Preiskal was 75 years of age. She was the mother of former Police Commissioner Abram Preiskal of this city.

RAIL ALLIANCE AIM ADMITTED

Great Northern Executive
Confirms Reports

Definite Overtures Not Yet
Made to Santa Fe

Interstate Board's Action on
Buy Link Awaited

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—Prior to his departure for Klamath Falls, Or., tonight, following prolonged conferences with H. M. Adams, president of the Western Pacific Railroad Company, F. G. Dorey, vice-president and general counsel for the Great Northern, confirmed the statement in this morning's Los Angeles Times that the Great Northern seriously considers an alliance with the Santa Fe in its desire to tap the producing and consuming field of Southern California, Arizona and West Texas.

Definite overtures toward such an association have not been made as yet, he declared, and undoubtedly will be withheld until Interstate Commerce Commission action has been taken on the joint application of the Great Northern and Western Pacific to connect between Klamath Falls, Or., and Keddle or Pantan, Ariz., and Keddle or Pantan, Ariz., and Keddle or Pantan, Ariz., thus giving the Great Northern a direct rail entry to the San Francisco Bay district.

It is anticipated that the Interstate Commerce Commission decision cannot be rendered in much less than a year. The customary questionnaires of pertinent data now are in process of assembly and they are to be submitted to the Federal

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Arthur Honegger, French modernist composer, believes the technique of singing must be completely changed, holding that "it is stupid to hold one's mouth open so long and to make so much noise."

"There must be a new art of singing which will be as natural as speaking," he said.

body April 2, next, after which the dates and places of hearing will be decided.

That the Santa Fe occupies a definite niche in the general scheme of Great Northern expansion, however, was admitted, emphasis being laid on the point that the alliance to the extent of reciprocal shipping arrangements, would be of the utmost mutual benefit.

A northern and northwestern territory of 6,000,000 persons can be opened to what he termed the benefits of competitive rail service and trade reciprocity if the Great Northern plans are carried to completion, Dorey declared.

CHANGES ASKED IN TARIFF RULES

Treasury Official Proposes
New Valuation Basis

Simpler Figuring Urged for Ad Valorem Duties

Would Admit Comparison as Computation Base

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (AP)—A series of changes designed to improve the administration of the tariff law, including broadening of sections applying to the basis of valuation for assessments of ad valorem duties, were submitted to the House Ways and Means Committee today by Ogden Mills, Undersecretary of the Treasury.

Mr. Mills confined his recommendations as to the valuation method to "an improvement of the present basis" of foreign valuation, rather than the general substitution of American values or such other alternative as has been proposed to the committee.

The weakness of the present system, he said, appeared to be not in Section 402 of the act, which directs appraisement on United States value where foreign value cannot be satisfactorily ascertained, but in the reappraisal proceedings which may result in determination of a value which cannot be properly verified by Treasury officials.

Under present procedure with regard to reappraisal, Mills declared, a customs court, in an appealed case, might decide that a foreign value did exist even though the appraiser could not determine such value to his satisfaction. As a result, he added, the duties finally determined and paid are based on a foreign value, "proved to the court by the submission of affidavits which Treasury agents are unable to verify."

He recommended a change whereby the basis determined upon an appeal by the appraising officer, subject to review by the Secretary of the Treasury, should be applicable throughout all reappraisal proceedings. This would limit the court, he added, to the question of whether the value on the basis used by the appraiser had been properly determined and, if not, to a re-determination on that basis only.

As a further safeguard he suggested that the appraiser's valuation be made "prima facie correct for reappraisal."

To make possible the determination of United States value in many cases where this is not now possible, the Undersecretary proposed a change in definition to allow the value to be arrived at from the cost of a comparable article, whether domestic or imported, an offer for sale in the United States, with proper adjustment for differences in quality and in other respects.

TORONTO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Angered by the small amount of money he had, two hold-up men today forced Algeo Aygusta to swallow a closed jack-knife more than four inches long.

Doctors say there is hope of saving Aygusta's life.

RADIO CHANNEL THEORY SHAKEN

District of Columbia Court
Ruling Hits Method

Senator Dill Hails Decision
as "Common Sense"

Local Service Paramount to
"Overlap" Zone, He Says

BY MARTIN CODEL
Copyright 1930, by the North American Newspaper Alliance

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—Those who oppose high-power broadcasting and nationally cleared channels for exclusive use by superpower stations are citing the decision of the Court of Appeals of the District of Columbia in the WGVY case as backing their stand. If their theory is correct the legal decision may also react against other powerful stations on cleared channels and against the new stations of 10,000 watts or more that have been authorized by the Federal Radio Commission.

Such new stations, all of them entailing equipment expenditures running into six figures, have been built or now are being built in cities like Chicago, Fort Worth, Dallas, Minneapolis, Indianapolis, Nashville, St. Louis, Atlanta, Louisville, Charlotte, Raleigh and Los Angeles.

WGVY, trustee of retaining or obtaining cleared channels exclusively, these stations may find themselves occupying wave lengths simultaneously with other stations using either high or low powers.

"COMMON SENSE," SAYS DILL
Senator Dill, one of the legislative leaders who would limit power and reserve few or no cleared channels, told the Senate today that he believes the court has applied "the rule of common sense" in authorizing the Schenck station to remain on its present channel, using 50,000 watts, while KGO, Oakland, Cal., also stays on the same channel with 10,000.

Admitting that heterodyne whistles are bound to occur outside the immediate listening areas of the two stations, Senator Dill contended the court's decision to mean that it was better to have such interference than to allow one station evening time on the air only when the other was off. In other words, the service needs of the near-by audiences of both the New York and the California stations outweigh the disturbance that distant listeners might find on their mutual wave length.

LOCALIZED SERVICE
Senator Dill said he is confident that broadcasting services are becoming more and more localized and that only a small minority of listeners tune in regularly on distant stations. The chief argument that has been advanced for high power on cleared channels is that this is the only way to serve rural and remote radio listeners consistently.

While Senator Dill praised the decision for its apparent wisdom at the engineering theory, which generally favors high power and cleared channels, he told his colleagues in the Senate that he believed the decision was reversible because the court rendered it before the final brief of counsel for the Federal Radio Commission had been submitted. He also interpreted the decision to mean that no station has any property or vested rights in the ether and that all decisions of the commission must be "reasonable and in the public interest," regardless of theoretical technical demands.

CONFUSION PREVAILS
Much confusion continued to prevail today, however, regarding the probable effect of the decision on the basic reallocation plan, with its provision for the equalization of radio facilities among zones and States. The decision apparently leaves out of consideration the equalization factor and Senator Dill expressed his growing conviction that the constitutional validity of the Davis equalization amendment is open to grave doubt.

There also is considerable difference of opinion regarding whether the court's decision really answers the property, priority and vested rights questions raised in the case. Other radio litigation attracted attention while the commission was turning its interest to the bill to extend the life of the Federal Radio Commission.

COPELAND THREATENS
Complete confidence still prevailed, as the Senate proceeded to a night session, that the bill to extend the life of the Federal Radio Commission for another year would pass, despite Senator Copeland's insistence that he will not let it come to a vote unless a compromise is reached whereby the licensing authority will be even back to the Department of Commerce no later than December 1 of this year.

Neither Senator Watson nor Senator Dill is willing to compromise. Both want the authority extended until March 16, 1930. Senator Copeland was an assurance that the commission will assume appellate jurisdiction before the Seventy-first Congress begins its regular session next December. He demands that the original authority over radio be vested permanently in the executive branch of government.

CLUB FLIES TO SLIVERS
ON HAPPY MAN'S HEAD
LOUISVILLE, Feb. 27. (AP)—Patrolman Chris Brooks asserts acquaintance with a man who he says has the world's hardest head. Last night the patrolman noticed a "whoopie-maker" as he approached the joyous gentleman promptly retreated, so the officer launched his night attack through the air. The stick landed with a "smack" on the head of the departing celebrator and shattered into five pieces. The fleeing one never missed a step.

The new Commander Six provides comfort heretofore unknown among cars of its price. It is roomier—it clings more closely to the road at high speeds—it eases your travel with larger hydraulic shock absorbers, with new ball bearing spring shackles, with wider, deeper, softer cushions. stant and powerful, by a non-shatterable windshield.

These qualities of the new Commander Six you can see, and feel, and measure, and check. Studebaker, with a 77-year-old tradition of manufacturing integrity as your reassurance, makes this simple statement to you, and asks your leave to prove it, by placing a new Commander Six at your disposal for an hour—or a day—it is the greatest motor car ever built and sold at its price!

Team Shut Out by Stars in Practice, 8 to 0

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 27. — Hollywood's budding Stars scored their third victory in four exhibition games this afternoon when they shut out the naval training station nine, 8 to 0, on their spring camp.

Manager Oscar Vitt during this season. Anderson, the only bespectacled player in camp, twined the last four innings and gave out three hits. His action on the mound, however, was what caught the eye of Vitt and Owner Bill Lane. They believe the youngster will round into a real pitcher in another year. Wallace Ritter, another recruit, tossed the first five innings and gave but "no hit."

Cleo Carlyle, outfielder, was the particular star of the morning workout. Carlyle, who was ill most of last season, but kept playing only through heroic effort on his part, did something that no other player has done in camp yet, and a ball over the right-field fence in batting practice. Lane and Vitt look for Carlyle to have a great season and add plenty of punch and speed to the outfield.

BACK ON COMEBACK ROAD

It's Jack Sharkey, the big Boston sailor, who defeated Young Stirling, the heavyweight prize of Georgia, in the ten-round "Battle of the Everglades" at Miami last night. The gob took the decision and the major portion of the purse. A throng of some 40,000 spectators paid $400,000 to witness the maiden title project promoted by Jack Dempsey, former world's champion. Salvatore Bagges, Times staff artist, drew the sketch of Sharkey shown below.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Martha Norelius of New York won the National Amateur Athletic Union's 100-yard free style women's championship swim tonight, beating a strong field with the comparatively slow time of 1:44.4.

York, easily retained her senior championship in the 300-yard medley. She swam the distance in 4m. 52.4, a second slower than her own world's record, but she was thirty feet ahead of her nearest rival, Lisa Lindstrom, a team-mate, at the finish. Joan McSheehy, Whiteville, Mass., was third.

Tonight's two events gave the New York Women's Association a flying start toward the team championship it has held since team competition was inaugurated years ago. The New York team ran up a total of 13 points in the events.

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (AP)—Lou Magnolia, referee of the Sharkey-Stirling fight, gave the decision to Jack Sharkey in his ten-round fight with Young Stirling at Miami Beach, Fla. Feb. 27. Magnolia, who has been a referee for many years, was very much surprised at the poor showing Stirling made. He figured that a man with the long left that he has would tear Sharkey's head off if he used it properly. Instead, he would lead with a light left and immediately go into a clinch.

Stirling's best punch came in the fourth round. He led with a light left to the stomach, and shot a terrible right that caught Sharkey on the jaw. In view of the so-called bitter feeling between the men, both boys fought a fairly clean fight.

I continually warned Stirling to hold with both hands pulling Sharkey to him and then trying to throw him to the ground. I was FLAMINGO PARK, MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 27. (AP)—The flinty hopes of W. L. (Young) Stirling, heavyweight pride of Georgia and the South, skyrocketed tonight in the balmy tropical air—flaring high, then falling, extinguished in a sputtering blast by the ramming fists of the big Boston sailor, Jack Sharkey, in a slashing ten-round fight that was thrillingly close from start to finish. Sharkey had his hand lifted aloft, the victor, on the decision of Referee Lou Magnolia of New York.

Defective Brakes and Moist Pavement Blamed for Death of Policemen in Crash

MERCY MISSION BRINGS DEATHS

Skid Marks Show Why Pair Had Fatal Crash

Five Others Injured in Traffic Accidents

Killing of Woman by Auto to be Investigated

Defective brakes and moist pavement were blamed partly for the deaths yesterday morning of Patrolmen John M. Shomaker, 33, and William H. Marple, 35, of the Highland Park division.

JOHN M. SHOMAKER

Officers investigating reported that skid marks on the pavement showed that when the driver of the police car in which the two patrolmen were riding applied the brakes about 100 feet from the intersection of Avenue 43 and York Boulevard, the band on the right rear wheel failed to take hold. The same skid marks, it is stated, disclosed how the machine slid sideways for nearly 300 feet, before it struck a high curb at the corner of a driveway and turned over three times. Both left wheels were smashed off at the hub.

MISSION OF MERCY

Shomaker and Marple were making a call to 5129 Eagle Dale avenue, where they were to notify a Mr. Bird that Burien Carr was dying in the General Hospital, it is reported.

WILLIAM H. MARPLE

Both officers were killed instantly, it is stated. Shomaker was found lying alongside the overturned police car. Marple had been slung about twenty feet away.

Marple was single and lived at 1233 Boynton avenue, Glendale. He formerly was a motorcycle officer in Glendale before his appointment to the local department September 6, 1927.

Shomaker leaves a widow and small son at 5129 Eagle Dale Drive. He was appointed a patrolman December 21, 1926.

Inquest into the deaths of the two officers will be conducted at the County Morgue tomorrow at 10 a.m.

GOES THROUGH HIGH BRIDGE

Savage, 28 years of age, of 3335 East Green street, Pasadena, crashed through the railing and dropped with his car onto the tracks forty feet below yesterday noon.

He was taken to the Pasadena avenue Receiving Hospital, where Police Surgeon Blanchard gave him first-aid treatment for a possible skull fracture, concussion of the brain, and numerous bruises. He later was transferred to General Hospital.

Two automobiles driven by women collided yesterday at Hollywood Boulevard and Vine street. One driver drove away before being identified. Occupants of the other car were injured and were taken to the Dickey & Case emergency hospital.

He would not commit himself as to whether the defendant would go on the stand in his own defense. He indicated that, in his opinion, the larger part of the trial will revolve itself in an argument between counsel before the jury after the taking of evidence had ceased.

REPORTER MISSING
When court opened yesterday morning, proceedings were held up when it was discovered the court reporter was missing. It developed that the reporter had received no assurance that he was to be paid for his work and had retired until the matter was settled. In misdemeanor cases in the municipal courts no court reporter is provided by the county, and when no law could be found on the matter, it was finally stipulated between opposing counsel that each side will pay its share of the expense. The reporter then returned to his duties.

Liquor Labor Lost as Raid Reveals Ruse

A year's labor spent in digging a sub-basement and long tunnel to conceal a still came to naught yesterday just six weeks after the still had been placed in operation, operatives under Capt. Plummer, head of the District Attorney's vice and prohibition enforcement detail, reported.

The still was found at 916 North Oxford street, Belvedere, according to Deputies Keeler, Talbot, and Riso, who conducted the raid.

The officers assert that they visited the address to make a purchase of liquor for evidence, but when they found the liquor to be warm they searched the premises and discovered the still in operation in a long tunnel leading from a sub-basement.

Those arrested gave their names as Elmer Hernandez, Trinidad Hernandez and Eugenia Hernandez.

ORDINANCE ADOPTED

The final ordinance for the extensive program embraced in the Webb-street and Radford-avenue improvement district was adopted by the City Council yesterday.

THE General Electric Refrigerator, designed and built after fifteen years of painstaking development by the Research Laboratories, is an electrical achievement and the outstanding electric refrigerator. Like an electric iron or fan it plugs into any convenient outlet and requires no other connection.

All its mechanism is assembled in an hermetically sealed steel casing and placed up on top, leaving the entire cabinet space for food storage. The mechanism thus enclosed is dirt-proof, worry-proof, so automatic you do not even oil it, so quiet you hardly know when the motor is running.

All porcelain-finished inside—up on legs to give broom-room underneath.

It preserves food always at the scientifically correct temperature, well under 50 degrees, and provides an ample supply of ice cubes.

WOMAN DRIVER SENTENCED

Declaring that drunken drivers are among the worst of traffic menaces, Municipal Judge Ambrose, presiding in the master calendar court of the felony division of the Municipal Court, yesterday joined in the campaign inaugurated some time ago by Traffic Judges McWay and Swan to send all defendants convicted of operating automobiles while under the influence of liquor to jail.

Judge Ambrose announced his policy of straight ball sentences in such cases in imposing a thirty-day sentence on Helen Murphy, Hollywood dancing teacher. Miss Murphy was accused of driving while drunk, a felony, but while Dep. Dist. Atty. Russell was able to prove she had been drinking, he could not establish that she was sufficiently under the influence of liquor to be held for trial on the felony charge.

Police Officers McBride and Peterson testified that Miss Murphy, driving "unsteadily" down Sunset boulevard, barely avoided a crash with a police ambulance, which pursued her for more than a mile before the officers were able to force her into the curb and place her under arrest.

Following a plea by S. S. Hahn, defense attorney, Judge Ambrose reduced the felony complaint to one of reckless driving and imposed the jail sentence when the girl entered a plea of guilty.

3 real advancements in TRUCK-Buying, too AS WELL AS IN OPERATION GENERAL MOTORS TRUCKS

1

Straight Rating: Clarifies the question of what a given truck and body will actually handle with year-in, year-out efficiency. Avoids the vagueness, hedging, and hidden penalties of the old rating terms. It is based on maximum allowable total gross weight of any General Motors Truck. From this subtract known chassis and body weights;—the answer is clear, exact. A guarantee takes on new meaning. Tire equipment gives utmost mileage, top-economy.

No "Excess Allowances"—but Extra Value, Built In. No unsound allowances are made on trade-ins, as far as General Motors Trucks are concerned. Actual used truck value is determined by impartial, fair appraisal. The buyer is free to consider real value in a new truck—is not confused and misled by haggling. List prices of General Motors Trucks contain no "water." They share fairly, with buyers, the advantages of unusual facilities, wisely used.

A Real Work Test: At our expense. We provide any available General Motors Truck—model, chassis or body that most closely meets your exact needs. We provide gasoline and a man to accompany your driver. You give them your regular loads and regular routes—and keep them at work for an adequate test. Our purpose is to help a man get work-facts, in advance. To put something more than words back of every statement about General Motors Trucks.

Use these practical safeguards, in considering any truck-investment. See these modern trucks now, and get the facts.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel.

Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 20 years and editor of the famous "Dr. Edwards' Official Remedy Book," discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and tropical fevers.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative mixed with olive oil.

No griping or "laxative" effect. These little sugar-coated, olive-tinted tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to act.

If you have a "stuck bowels" condition, a dull, tired feeling—such headaches—tired liver—constipation, try Olive Tablets. They will give you quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night to keep right. Try them. 15c, 30c, 60c—(Advertisement.)

SANTA MONICA ORATORS BUSY

Beach School Expects to Be Strong Contender

Both Old and New Talent Will Be in Contest

Principal Says Participants of Highest Type

Santa Monica High School, which has been in the National Oratorical Contest on the Constitution every year since the great enterprise was launched, is expected to be its best representation in 1936, according to Principal W. F. Barnum.

"We are proud of the part our school has played in the contest and consider the personnel of our contestants this year particularly noteworthy," said Mr. Barnum yesterday. "It speaks well for the contest that it is attracting the best class of students, the leaders and the scholars. The first year of the contest, before it became national in scope, Santa Monica won second place in the Times finals through Edgar Landrum, now a Stanford alumnus. The winner of the Times finals that year was Arthur Sylvester of Pasadena, who since has had a remarkable career in oratory."

MANY PREPARED
The first contest to present his oration in finished form is Ellen Anderson, and many other orators are in varying stages of preparation. Among the students, student body president, is entering again and has been doing extensive reading and will present an entirely new oration this year.

Arnold Peck, who has been finance commissioner, business manager and a member of the Boys' League executive board, is locked upon as a promising contestant. Vera Hotchkiss enters the contest for the first time. Last year she was in the "Outlawry of War" contest, and immediately was marked as a strong contender for the constitutional contest on the Constitution.

Miss Lorber, prominent in women's club work in Southern California, is also a member. Miss Lorber's speech last year possessed real merit. Her varied school activities have given her poise and self-confidence.

OTHERS IN CONTEST
Others who are entering the contest from this school are Stanley West, president of the Honor Scholarship Society; Miss Flavin, a recent arrival possessing good poise and a clear, pleasing voice; Howard Carr, whose sister Mildred was active in the contest for two years; William Salisbury and Hattie Lou Moss.

From Excelsior High School an enthusiastic and promising contestant for the honor of representing the school in District 1, Katherine Odell won first place at the Excelsior and third place in the district last year. She is also a member of the sophomore debate team. Philip Martin, now a senior, placed second in the school elimination last year and competition between these two students will be keen. Elsie Deid is a prominent member of the junior class, is vice-president of the scholarship society and general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Another all-around student and athlete, who is re-entering is Eugenia Oire, a junior. Jean Gilbert, who has represented the school in debating for three years, is entering the oratorical contest for the first time. A fourth junior who is counted on to add materially to the competition is Barton Shaw. He participated in the contest last year at Taft. Gladys Statten, a sophomore, and Iva Ackerman, a freshman, have kept their oratorical abilities under cover and may prove to be surprises, according to the contest representative at Excelsior.

She is also a member of the sophomore debate team. Philip Martin, now a senior, placed second in the school elimination last year and competition between these two students will be keen. Elsie Deid is a prominent member of the junior class, is vice-president of the scholarship society and general secretary of the Y.M.C.A. Another all-around student and athlete, who is re-entering is Eugenia Oire, a junior. Jean Gilbert, who has represented the school in debating for three years, is entering the oratorical contest for the first time. A fourth junior who is counted on to add materially to the competition is Barton Shaw. He participated in the contest last year at Taft. Gladys Statten, a sophomore, and Iva Ackerman, a freshman, have kept their oratorical abilities under cover and may prove to be surprises, according to the contest representative at Excelsior.

THREATS TO WITNESSES BRING JAIL

Two Sentenced Because of Asserted Intimidation During Trial of Case

Following the filing of affidavits by Louis Zeldin, David Freed and Schney Zaken in which they accused Ben Bernstein and Sam Cohen of intimidating them as witnesses during the trial of a civil action, Superior Judge Bogus yesterday sentenced the last two to two days each in the County Jail.

The commitments yesterday followed the trial of a personal injury suit before Judge Bogus several weeks ago in which Zeldin asked $16,700 damages of Ben and Katie Bernstein for personal injuries asserted to have been received when the Zeldin and Bernstein automobiles collided at Brooklyn avenue and Cummings street on May 14, 1935. A judgment of $5000 was given Zeldin.

During the trial evidence was offered by the plaintiff to prove that the Bernstein automobile carried, at the time of the accident, five gallons cans of whisky.

Witnesses were reluctant to testify and when Judge Bogus demanded the reason they intimated they had been threatened.

"I insist that testimony in this case be given," Judge Bogus declared and added:

"The court will see that you are protected."

Judge Bogus then ordered that the witnesses prepare affidavits relative to the intimidation.

According to the affidavits, the witnesses were accused by Bernstein and Cohen in the hall outside of the court on the afternoon of the 14th inst. Bernstein is credited with saying to them: "We will fix you up after the trial." Cohen is asserted to have said: "We will show you how to tell about whisky being in the car."

"The spirits told me to treat you rough," he says she told him, in explanation of her conduct. Butler asks custody of two children.

"ARIZONA" CLOSING DEFINITE

"Abie's Irish Rose" Slated for Showing at Criterion March 8

The end of the run of "In Old Arizona" has been definitely set for March 7. "Abie's Irish Rose" comes to the Fox-Criterion the following day, March 8.

Nearly 600,000 Angelenos have seen "In Old Arizona," many of them more than once.

Preparations are being made for the debut of "Abie's Irish Rose," on which the Paramount studios have lavished so much time and money.

Nancy Carroll and "Buddy" Rogers are the stars, with Jean Hersholt and J. Farrell MacDonald in a carefully chosen cast. Paramount's talking-singing photoplay, based on Anna Nichols' stage success, gives the Fox-Criterion an attraction which will have a long run, predictions say.

"Abie's Irish Rose" now holds all theatrical stage records, including five and a half years in New York. "Abie" broke the London "Chu Chin Chow" record of 2238 performances. It is estimated that 16,000,000 persons have seen it on the stages of twenty nations.

Massenet Opera Reading is of Vivid Interest

Ethel Graham Lynde's operas, the first of which was given yesterday afternoon at Barker Brothers auditorium, are attracting wide attention. The four operas of this series are "Thais," "Hormas," to be given Friday afternoon, "Faust" on Monday morning and "Lohengrin" next Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Lynde is the official operatress of the Chicago Civic Opera Company on the tour. She succeeds in making the operas truly interesting in anticipation and her ability to choose the essential dramatic and poetic points of the story was well demonstrated yesterday afternoon before a crowded auditorium. Possessing a personality of attractive charm, she is impressive in her delineations without being over-enthusiastic.

Marguerite Hicks Hall played the piano score of the opera and assisted materially in re-creating the opera for the listeners.

"Iron Mask's" Premiere Near

"The Iron Mask," Douglas Fairbanks' latest romantic photoplay, will have its premiere at the Carthy Circle Theatre. The story is Corinne Griffith in "The Divine Lady" will close her engagement the preceding evening.

"The Iron Mask" unfolds the further adventures of D'Artagnan and his three loyal comrades, Athos, Porthos and Aramis, the famous swordswielding heroes of Dumas' romances.

Of all the romantic figures in fiction and history, D'Artagnan is Fairbanks' favorite. For six years, since he made the first story of the gay guardman, "The Three Musketeers," he has cherished a desire again to play the seventeenth-century hero.

"The Iron Mask" is a sequel. No expense has been spared to make it authentic as well as beautiful, and during the course of the story Doug performs feats of daring that outclass even anything he has heretofore accomplished before the camera. It is declared, also, his fans will be given an opportunity to hear his voice as well as see him.

Linguistic Art Aid to Career

Because of her unusual aptitude as a linguist, Lily Maylon, youthful member of the Figurea Playhouse "Escape" company, has been able to secure important theatrical engagements with many of the best-known stars on the American and English stages, including Ethel Barrymore, H. B. Irving and Henry Miller.

Educated in a private school in Belgium, she secured expert conversational familiarity with a half-dozen languages, which since has given her fortunate acting opportunities in plays of long runs.

In the New York production of "French Leave" she spoke her part in the role with the accent of a Parisienne, and the Italian woman in "Romance," the German lass in "The Man Who Stayed at Home" and the Chinese woman in "East of Suez."

Cinema Relates Office Scandal

Here's ed as one of the most authentic motion pictures of newspaper life ever filmed, "The Office Scandal," Phyllis Haver's latest Pathé starring vehicle, will be shown with sound id vogue next week.

"The Office Scandal" is a supporting Miss Haver in the picture, which Paul Smith directed, are Raymond Hatton, Margaret Livingston, Leslie Elton and others.

Headlining the Radio-Keith-Orpheum stage entertainment will be a vaudeville troupe, the Raymours, international dance star, and Lido Boys, recruited from New York cafes.

FOLLIES STAR SHINES IN VITAPHONE TALKIE

"My Man," a Vitaphone talking picture featuring Pauline Brice, now being shown at the Tower Theatre.

From 1910 to 1922, Miss Brice was a feature of "Edgeland Follies," to leave that organization and become star of Irving Berlin's Music Box Revue.

"My Man" presents the star in a part which not only gives full scope for her talents as a singer and comedienne, but also reveals her as an emotional actress.

In this picture Miss Brice sings even songs, including the famous "My Man" around which the story is built.

There are also being shown vaudeville acts on the Vitaphone.

"GRAVEN IMAGE" A DRAMA OF LOVERS

Elise Bartlett Schildkraut Seen to Splendid Advantage in Theater Mart Play

In this rousing play world of today wherein profanity, shooting men and screaming women seem to hold forth in majority numbers, it is a delightful experience to find a romance in the mood of rare tenderness and sincerity.

Of such materials, modern thought has woven a play, "The Graven Image," a new drama by David Tearle and Dominick O'Connell, which is being given its first hearings at the Theater Mart this week.

"The Graven Image" tells the story of a woman who loves vividly and splendidly a man she believes to have betrayed her trust. When she is told a grave untruth about his actions she drives him from her home and in so doing not only cracks her own life but that of this finely strung, beautifully sensitive lover of hers.

Elise Bartlett Schildkraut interprets the difficult emotional role of the woman with power, beauty and imagination. She is particularly appealing in the strongly dramatic scene at the close of the first act and again at the end of the play.

David Tearle, one of the co-authors, is excellent as the idealistic, somewhat irresponsible fine-blooded musician.

Upon these two actors falls the burden of the responsibility of the performance and to them must be given principal credit. However, they have good support in ensemble roles, Miss Corinne Rose, whose work seems to gain definitely in quality with each new role, and in the work of Leslie Rose, Lander, Madeline Hill, Jay Hunt, Carol Warren and others. Robert Carman Ryles directed.

"The Graven Image" is to continue through Saturday evening. It has very definite qualities of appeal and a certain charm of mood.

Rae Samuels to Radiate Sunday

Fresh from eastern triumphs in vaudeville and local comedy, Rae Samuels, "songland's radiant personality girl," will arrive in Los Angeles Sunday for a week's engagement at the Orpheum Theatre.

Accompanying Miss Samuels, who will present a new repertoire of songs written especially for her, will be Dorothy Hanson, pianist.

Grace Hayes and Neville Flessen, musical comedy favorites, associated with "The Merry Widow," "Artists and Models," "A Night in Spain," "Honey Girl," "Apple Blossom Time" and others, will also be featured on the program, which Miss Samuels plunging into his second week, will handle the "ceremonies."

Much interest is being manifest in the appearance of Rudolph Gana, pianist, as soloist with the Philharmonic Orchestra, George Schumann, violin, conductor, this evening and tomorrow afternoon at the Philharmonic Auditorium. This conductor-pianist-composer needs no introduction to Los Angeles concertgoers, as he has already proven his worth in this city.

For his appearance with the Philharmonic, Mr. Gana will play Schumann-concert for piano in a minor, Op. 64, in three movements. The Mahler Symphony No. 5, in G sharp minor, also programmed, will be given first hearing at these concerts.

DRAMA STUDENTS TRY HAND AT PLAYWRITING

Bernard J. McOwen, co-author of "The Skull," in which he is associated with the Henry Dufray Players at the Lyric Theatre, will give a class in playwriting every Tuesday afternoon for his fellow professionals who are interested in dramatic writing. Members of the class include Montague Shaw, Eddy Waller, Reginald Sheffield and George Leasingwell of "The Skull" cast all of whom have had plays produced: Leslie Bacon, Frank Baron, Edward McWade and Robert Keith of the "Lyric" company; Herbert Parlow from "Mother's Millions," and Emerson Tracy.

The class intends to produce a play by one of its members for an amateur audience at the Lyric Theatre next month. The stipulation is that the play never has been given public performance before. The judges who will pass on the merits of the plays and possibly choose the one for production are Henry Duffy, Edwin H. Curtis, stage director for the Duffy company, and McOwen.

EARLIEST CHRISTMAS PRESENT-GIVER FOUND

Mrs. Frank Bacon proffers all her Christmas gifts in June.

Every summer she sends her friends boxes of hand-picked cherries from her ranch near Mount View. "With the exception of the family gifts, I send no others at Christmas time," says the actress, who is to be seen as Mrs. Jones in "Lightnin'," the comedy written by her late husband, Frank Bacon, which the Henry Duffy Players are presenting at El Capitan.

"Every time I send out several hundred of these boxes in various directions. Some of them go to friends of Frank's whom I never have met but of whom he has fond. Others are to my own personal friends. Then when December comes and everyone is scurrying around, frantically trying to secure a necktie for Ed or a scarf for Nettie, I sit back at ease knowing that my shopping is all over for the year."

BELLAMY CASE CALLED

Loew's State Theater is transformed into a huge courtroom for the week starting today the scene of "The Bellamy Trial," in which the mystery of who killed Mimi Bellamy is solved through the testimony of witnesses.

The trial is realistically presented in the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer talking picture from the novel by Frances Hays Hart. More realism is added by the novel opening of the picture.

The producers and theater urgently request all audiences not to reveal to their friends the real murderer in the case as the very keen suspense leading up to this revelation would be thus spoiled for those yet to see the picture. No one can possibly guess the murderer.

It is claimed, until he is revealed in the very last sequence.

Leatrice Joy and Kenneth Thomson are defendants, charged with the crime. Margaret Livingston plays Mimi Bellamy, George Barraud is an important witness, Charles B. Middleton in district attorney and Charles Hill Mallon, defense attorney. Edward Nugent and Betty Bronson are reporters covering the trial for the press.

Buck Wolf stars his band and a cast of entertainers are in the Fanchon and Marco stage idea, "Futurists."

Stan Laurel and Oliver Hardy "jaw" from grace in their latest "laugh explosion" from Hal Roach. "We Faw Down," which is offered as an added attraction on the new bill.

Minstrel Heads Festivities at Grauman Show

Choice of Eddie Leonard, most famous of modern minstrel, to be guest artist at Saturday night's special midnight matinee of "The Broadway Melody" at Grauman's Chinese Theatre, has just been announced by Sid Grauman.

Leonard's presence here to be starred in talks for Universal Pictures made it possible for the theater manager to present the best of vaudeville circuits to his late-hour audience.

As at previous midnight shows at the Chinese, celebrities of stage and film will be called from the audience to take part with the guest artist in the impromptu festivities. Last Saturday no less than a dozen widely known actors gave extemporaneous presentations, it is said.

The special series of Saturday midnight shows was arranged by Grauman to give stage and film stars engaged in night work an opportunity to pay tribute to the Broadway stars of the presentation.

SCHROCK WRITING

Raymond L. Schrock, who has abandoned the executive side in the film industry in order to devote his full time to writing original stories, is now at work on another opus for William Haines. Schrock wrote "The Gob," which is now being made by M.-G.-M., also with Haines in the starring role.

New Revue Will "Whoop It Up"

"Whooping It Up" will be the fitting title of Larry Ceballos' new stage revue opening at Warner Brothers Theatre in Hollywood next Monday in connection with the two-week showing of Texas Guinan in a 100 per cent Vitaphone talking picture, "Queen of the Night Clubs." Ceballos has chosen his title because, he says, the revue will be the people's joy and yet produced in order to be in accord with the picture, which shows Texas' night club in New York running full blast.

It is known that Ceballos will have one number staged in Hades, with the chorus dancing as cypriotes. The revue cast is entirely new and includes Richard Powell and Madeline, Frederick and Dabney, Sugar Barnum and George Rath.

SINGS RUSSIAN MELODIES

The soprano voice of Bacianova will be heard singing buoyant Russian melodies in "The Woman Who Needed Killing." Bacianova will sing four numbers during the filming of the African story, the romance of a woman and two white men among hundreds of natives. "The Wolf of Wall Street," Bacianova's singing voice was heard the first time, C. Broke, Neil Hamilton, Leslie Fenton, Suzy Edwards and Clyde Cook are in the cast of "The Woman Who Needed Killing." Reinwald V. Lee is directing the production.

ANGELENOS TO HEAR "IOLANTHE" TONIGHT

Leslie Rand

"Iolanthe," or "The Peer and the Peri," will be ushered on the stage of the Mason Theatre tonight for an engagement of three days by the D'Oyly Carte Opera Company, which is scoring a decided hit with local theatergoers.

"Iolanthe" is another one of those typical Gilbert and Sullivan operettas. It was first produced at the Savoy Theatre, London, on November 25, 1882. In it, Leslie Rand plays Stephen, an Arcadian shepherd.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST

This new high point in Saturday Evening Post circulation maintains and increases its leadership in the magazine field.

This circulation expresses the preference of American periodical readers. It is not artificially stimulated. There are no subscriptions in arrears, no installment-payment subscriptions, no premium, cut-rate, clubbing, guessing or prize-contest offers for readers.

The growth of THE SATURDAY EVENING POST has been slow, steady and sure, because its policies are rooted in the best traditions of the past and are projected forward in an effort to help realize an ever stronger and sounder America. These policies are:

Higher standards in business and just treatment of business by government; fair play with other nations; self-protective immigration policies; expert conservation of national resources; extension of national parks and the protection of wild game; the wider spread of effective agencies for higher education and better health; clear and sensible discussions of the major questions of national and international importance as they develop from month to month, and the visualization of these questions, not separately, but in their relation to one another and as parts of a whole.

THE SATURDAY EVENING POST keeps its feet on the ground and its eyes forward without Editorial priggishness, economic pinkness or apologetic Americanism.

EMBRYO FLYERS IN GRADUATION

Fifty-three Cadets Finish
Work at March Field

Flying Stunts Add
Thrills to Day

Pass in Review for Corps
Commander

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 27.—With more than 3000 civilians cheering them, fifty-three March Field cadets today flew in review before Maj. Gen. Hines, commander of the United States Army Corps, and Maj. Gen. Hines, commander of March Field. Following the aerial maneuvers, the young aviators were presented with their diplomas by Maj. Gen. Hines.

The graduation address was delivered by Maj. Gen. Hines. The graduates were led by Cadet William Hall. The leaders of the various squadrons included Cadets Beebe, Williams, Arthur, and Coons.

Another thrilling feature of the graduation exercises was provided when Staff Sergeant O'Brien, in command of five parachute jumpers, were aloft in a large airplane. After gaining an altitude of more than 1000 feet, the group of six made perfect parachute leaps. In addition to Sgt. O'Brien, back the "chute" men included Private Latta, Private Garza, Private Graham, Private Hanson and Sergeant Whaling, all of whom have air machine ratings.

A sensational demonstration of stunt flying was given by Lt. Lowmeyer, who did some of the most impossible feats high above the field. Just before the graduation program began a group of ten pursuit planes arrived from March Field, San Diego, Capt. McManis was in command.

A group of interested spectators was composed of fifty Indian boys from Sherman Institute. They were present as a reward for their excellent record in the past year.

Ministers to Lend Support to President

ONTARIO, Feb. 27.—Ministers of the Ontario and United churches united today in sending a resolution to President-elect Hoover, pledging him strong support in his duties as President of the United States.

The resolution, which was adopted by the Ontario Council of Churches, expressed the confidence of the churches in the President-elect and his ability to lead the nation to a brighter future.

The resolution was signed by Rev. John Barron, pastor of the Methodist Episcopal Church, and Rev. H. A. Fyfe, minister of the Presbyterian Church, as secretary of the union.

MUCH INTEREST IN RECALL ELECTION

BEAUMONT, Feb. 27.—The Richardson City Clerk, reports that several candidates have filed nomination papers for the election March 19, next, to succeed those whose terms expire at that time.

Ray Samson, deputy clerk, George E. Hummel and Benjamin F. Chan are the candidates who will oppose Clyde E. Connelley, Mayor, and C. L. Mitchell, Alderman.

Petitions were circulated by Ray Bourne, Roy C. Adams and George W. Shattuck.

Registration has been active in preparation for voting, and a campaign is under way. Attorney Frank E. Miller has been ordering all supplies and of visiting Clerk Richardson in order to get the ballots which will be used in the election.

ASKS NEW TRIAL ON TECHNICALITY

REDLANDS, Feb. 27.—Clyde Wilson, negro, who is charged with terrorizing the West Olive district of Redlands by bodily terrorizing its homes on a single night, will be given a hearing in Court today on his motion for a new trial. Wilson is an ex-convict.

The motion for a new trial is based on technicalities in connection with evidence admitted in Court when Wilson was being held for burglary, a charge which was sent him to the penitentiary for life because of three prior convictions.

Loans that we foreclose!

THROUGH THIRTY-SIX YEARS WITHOUT LOAN-LOSS... the Mutual Building and Loan Association of POMONA... has kept that record... by making good loans... in the first place... and by immediate sale of foreclosed properties... in the second place.

We have no "foreclosure syndicate," which might be designed to keep exceptional bargains for the benefit of a chosen few. Nor do we have a "second-mortgage subsidiary," with its juicy fees and temptation to make risky loans. So, we hold STATE RECORDS.

WE ARE SATISFIED... with that small margin of profit... which an old-fashioned building and loan association... can get with safety... from conservative borrowers... who decline to pay... the thirty-two extra fees... of high-pressure loaning methods.

Whenever a combination of unlucky fate and circumstance compels a foreclosure, as $12,000,000 in loans sometimes requires, we consult with our nearest realtor to the property. His fortunate client gets a bed-rock bargain. Naturally, we have a "waiting list" of buyers.

TO HOLD FOUR STATE RECORDS... is a benediction... and a blessing... which we try to deserve... with humble sincerity... in applying the Golden Rule... to our business relationships... with yourself and our borrowing clients.

We have no ambition to be known as a smart, clever, shrewd financial institution. We have the good will of Pomona Valley as an old-fashioned, small-town, conservative thrift organization, among neighbors and clear-sighted friends. That, with YOUR good will, is better than four State records.

Wheat Futures Sharply Off on Bearish Mart

CHICAGO, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—Wheat futures declined sharply on a bearish market today. The initial quarterly payment of 50 cents per bushel will be paid May 15 to stockholders of record April 30.

Dr. W. W. Bennett, medical director of Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company and director of Pioneer Securities Company, who came up from Los Angeles today to attend the meeting, said: "Due to satisfactory earnings being shown by Pacific Associates it has been decided to place the stock on a regular dividend basis. Outlook for the company is bright."

T. F. COLE PURCHASES MINE FROM RECEIVER
TONOPAH (Nev.) Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—The personal property of the Tonopah Extension Mining Company was bought by Thomas F. Cole for $427,000. A receiver's sale here for $450,000. Cole paid $250,000 in receivership certificates, $200,000 in first mortgage bonds and $77,000 in cash.

CLEVELAND, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—Miller Rubber Company and its subsidiaries reported for the year ended December 31, 1928, net loss of $3,434,901, against a net loss of $499,301 in 1927. Operating profit for the year ended December 31, 1928, was $1,234,901, against a net profit of $1,234,901 in 1927.

NEW YORK, Feb. 27. (Exclusive)—The American Telephone and Telegraph Company will soon undertake the organization of a new subsidiary to be known as the Electric Products Company, according to reports current in Wall Street. The company will be formed by the consolidation of the parent company's activities, to take over all the activities of the parent company, having to do with talking pictures, television and other business connected with radio.

Whether the deal will involve the creation of new rights for American Telephone and Telegraph shareholders through offering the privilege of subscribing for stock, could not be learned, but this was doubted, as the parent company now owns virtually all the stock of the Western Electric Company, its equipment manufacturing subsidiary, which it presently handles the line believed destined to pass to a new organization.

The latter subsidiary is already a much more important factor in the radio, talking picture and television fields than is generally conceived. Perhaps as plans for the new company become known, the stupendous part played by the Electric Products Company in the development of the "talking pictures" possible will be unfolded.

AUTO-LITE PROFITS SHOW SHARP GAIN

Extensive alterations now under way in the Guaranty Building, by which the Guaranty Building and Loan Association will occupy two floors of the limit-height structure, will be completed March 15, Gilbert H. Bessinger, secretary, announced yesterday. Coming with the Guaranty's announcement was that of the Bank of Hollywood, which expects to be in its new home in the thirteen-story Bank of Hollywood Building on April 1.
